The Common Council met last evening and adopted the report of the committee recommending an obedience to the mandate issued by the District Court. This action spurs two articles in this morning's HERALD, but as they were in type before the Council yielded to the pressure of the laws we leave them to be read by those who would like to know our opinion on the matter.

We were led into the error of stating in our edition of yesterday that the Board of Supervisors had neglected to appoint a sub-committee to assist the State Board of Commissioners for the Philadelphia Centennial and hasten to make the correction. The appointees are M. KELLER; T. A. GAREY; O. W. CHILDS; J. U. CLARKE; L. S. LOCKHART; W. R. OLSEN and GEO. HANSEN. These gentlemen will undoubtedly do their full duty.

The Council and the Schools.

THAT the perpetuity of our Republican form of Government depends upon the education and intelligence of the masses, is a fact long recognized by our wisest and best statesmen. Therefore our public schools have come to be regarded as the bulwark of our civil liberty and the safeguard of our government. Anything affecting the efficiency of our public schools is regarded with deep interest by our citizens, especially by the poor who are not able to pay for education in private schools. The action of the Common Council in refusing to levy the school tax becomes a public matter, and one which the community wishes to understand. To bring the matter out in a clear manner attention is called to the fact that the Common Council and city Board of Education are to become separate and independent bodies. Each is elected by the people to perform certain duties prescribed by law. Each body is responsible to the people for the discharge of its duties. Neither body has any oversight or inspection over the other. The members of each body take an oath of office, which is signed by each member of the Common Council, as well as each member of the Board of Education, "to discharge his duties as a member of (the body to which he belongs) to the best of his ability." Under this oath the school law required the Board of Education, before the city tax is levied, to make an estimate of the money needed to carry on the public schools of the city for two months, and to furnish a statement of the amount needed to the Common Council. The law then provides that

"Thereupon the Common Council shall levy and collect a tax (in connection with the other taxes) sufficient to raise the amount," fixed by the Board of Education. The Board of Education prepared and furnished to the Common Council the statement required, which amounted to a tax of eighteen cents on each 100 dollars. The committee of the Common Council, Messrs. ROBINSON and TREB, reported the amount of the tax and stated that the Council had no discretion in the matter, but were compelled to levy the tax. But a majority of the Common Council deliberately voted to cut the tax down to ten cents, several members publicly expressing their hostility to the public schools. Last year the Common Council did the same thing, and this put the city to the extra expense of some $1200 to call an election for the purpose of voting a special school tax to carry on the public schools and provide for the accommodation of the children. The Board of Education, seeing that the city must again be put to this unnecessary expense for a special election, or that the schools must be closed for a part of the year, applied to the District Court for a mandamus to compel the Common Council to discharge its duty and levy and collect the tax demanded. On the hearing of the mandamus the only defense of the Council was that the time for fixing the rate of tax had passed, and the books were in the hands of the Tax Collector, and that the Board of Education were without remedy. It was admitted also that the Common Council had no right or discretion to refuse to levy the tax, and that they had delayed levying the tax until the last day, so that the Board of Education could not in time get out a mandamus. In other words, having taken an oath of office "to discharge their duty to the best of their ability," they refused to discharge their duty and use the best of their ability to prevent the courts from compelling them to discharge that duty. The court granted the mandamus, and Thursday night the Council held its usual meeting. Did it levy the tax? No. But members of the Council actually asked if there was any way to avoid it without becoming personally responsible. Other members of the Council undertook to ensure the management of the Board of Education, and a committee was appointed to see what had been done with the money already appropriated for the use of the Board of Education. The members of the Council should know that the Board of Education and its management is not under the inspection of the Council. It is an independent body created by law and its duties prescribed by law. The Council might just as well criticize the management of the District Court and appoint a committee to examine into its proceedings. The Council having adjourned without obeying the mandamus, are now in contempt of Court. The law provides as a penalty in such cases that "the corporation or board, or such persons upon whom the writ has been personally served, has, without just excuse, refused or neglected to obey the same, the Court may, upon motion, impose a fine not exceeding $1,000, or imprisonment not exceeding three months, and may make the order necessary to enforce the writ." We hope that our public schools will sufficiently educate the rising generation that when they become members of the Common Council they will know enough to obey the law, especially after being ordered to do so by mandamus, without waiting to be punished for contempt of Court.

The Council and the Teachers.

The Common Council of this city is a reformatory body. It goes in for the improvement of all other bodies and does even go so far as to appoint a committee to investigate charges that bribes have been offered to some of its members, but though two meetings have been held since that committee was appointed no report has been made nor has the matter been alluded to in open session. This tardiness is however in a great measure due to the fact that the Council has been seized with a notion that our school teachers are paid more salary than they earn; that the Superintendent is receiving more pay than his services are worth and that the Board of Education is not careful enough of the funds. We like to aid and assist the Council in its virtuous work and in order to enable the members to determine whether the teachers really earn their pittance or not we reprint from the School-Master the report of the city Public Schools for the month ending Sept. 24, 1875, which we think will convince the average intelligence that the salaries are not too high for the labor performed:

Judge Wheeler to-day overruled his demurrer to part of the answer and denied the motion to strike out other parts in the case of John H. Sealino, against the Post Publishing Company, holding that the answer simply sets out justification. This is an action brought in January 1874 to recover five thousand dollars damages alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff by reason of publishing an article charging him with having been arrested by the Post office authorities for illegally selling stamps and that he was a blackmailer.

Wm. H. Herron a professional gambler was arrested on Tuesday charged with burglarizing the saloon of Geo. Randall at the corner of Sacramento and Kearney streets on Sunday and stealing a watch and some jewelry. The only evidence against him consisted in the fact of his having been in the saloon late on the night before and pointing out to Randall how easily the drawer containing the property could be broken open which was done on the same night. He proved an alibi by two witnesses and was acquitted.

Signal Service in Arizona.

EASTERN NEWS.

The Epizootic in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, October 8th.—The epizootic is on the increase in this city, and in a much more serious form than when it first appeared. Horses are sick in nearly all the stables. Several lines of omnibuses have stopped running. No fatal cases have been reported.

The Long Murder Case.

SUN COOK, N. H., October 8th.—No new developments have occurred in the Lang murder case. Drew, who is charged with the crime, is still confined, and the detectives are busy working up the case. The public is quieter, but still think Drew is guilty and threaten to lynch him at the first favorable opportunity.

More Outrages.

NEW ORLEANS, October 8th.—The colored Sheriff at East Feliciana telegraphs to the Governor that while about to open court at Jackson on Monday, he was assaulted, beaten and shot. He was severely wounded, and fled to Baton Rouge, where he received medical attendance.

Kidnapping a Judge.

NEW ORLEANS, October 8th.—Two weeks ago G. J. Stokes, Judge of the Grant Parish Court, while in this city, was kidnapped by city detectives, placed in a row-boat and taken aboard a steamer in the stream. He was then taken to Texas in obedience to a requisition from Gov. Coke on acting Governor Antoine for the body of F. W. Stokes, charged with defalcation. Upon his arrival in Texas, Stokes was at once released not being the man who was wanted. He reached here yesterday and opened Court. He will institute proceedings against his kidnappers and the Chief of Police under whose orders they acted. His account of the arrest and the efforts of the detectives to prevent his consulting his friends or obtaining habeas corpus are somewhat startling.

Nimrod second, Brown third and Longfellow outside. St. Clair went off in the lead, but was collared and passed on the back-stretch by Brown, who led for the rest of the mile, winning the heat easily and becoming a great favorite in the pool-box, St. Clair coming in second, Nimrod third and Longfellow last. Time, 2:21 1/2.

Second Heat.—A collision occurred at the start. Nimrod going up the back stretch was three lengths in advance of Brown, with Longfellow and St. Clair six or eight lengths in the rear. At the three-quarter pole the old veteran commenced to pace, carrying Brown to a break and going up to Nimrod, and by an old time burst of speed beating him by two lengths down the stretch, winning the heat amid the applause of the crowd, St. Clair second, Brown third and Nimrod placed fourth, and his driver finished twenty dollars for his conduct on the first turn, putting in and interfering with Brown and St. Clair. Time—2:22.

Third Heat.—This was a beautiful heat and well worth the price of admission, all going off very evenly, St. Clair, Longfellow and Brown going off together. At the half the three were abreast, but down the stretch Longfellow out-paced both and won the heat, Brown second, Nimrod third and St. Clair fourth. Time—2:23 1/2.

Fourth Heat.—When the horses came up, the Judges, after considerable wrangling, talk and delay, substituted Wm. Hickok for Tom McClelland behind Brown. After a few false starts they got away again, with the old veteran, Longfellow, three lengths in the lead, which he held to the outcome in spite of all Hickok could do, winning the heat and race, Nimrod second, Brown third and St. Clair fourth. Time, 2:21 1/2. Brown got the second and St. Clair the third money.

Immediately after this a match race was trotted between Billy Ross and Lady Ella. Ella drew the pole and won the first heat in 2:44. Although she came under the wire first by two lengths, Billy Ross was given the heat on account of Ella's having been run under the whip. Time, 2:44 1/2.

The race was then postponed until to-morrow.

EASTERN NEWS.

New Hampshire Races.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 8th.—The third day's race of the Merrimack river circuit, postponed from yesterday, took place to-day. In the 2:50 class race, for a purse of $300, seven started. Charles R., the favorite, won in three straight heats, D. Chipin second and Joe S. third. Time, 2:43, 2:40 and 2:44.

The 2:40 class race was unfinished on account of darkness and was postponed until to-morrow. Whisper, the favorite, won two heats.

Steamer Sunk.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8th.—The steamer George Law, of the Chester River Steamboat Company, is reported to have sunk this morning while in Chester river, in consequence of an accident to the stern rod. No lives are supposed to have been lost.

The Gold Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8th.—The gold speculation was weak and lower to-day on cable advices of the withdrawal of gold from the Bank of England for shipment to this country, and also a report that some gold had been received here by express from California. The Evening Post in its editorial column says: "We hear that several stock speculators who bought gold within a few weeks on the calculation that Allen would be elected Governor of Ohio next week, on the inflation platform, to-day sold out on advices from Ohio that he will be defeated." Without doubt the fear of success of inflation induced some purchases of gold, but the main reason for the high price is the reduced stock of gold in the country, but particularly in this market. Every commercial reason is in favor of a lower premium, as the country has not had so much to export for many years as now.

A REMARKABLE CURE OF DEAFNESS.

SWORN AND SUBSCRIBED TO BEFORE A. W. POTTS, ESQ., COUNTY CLERK.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, County of Los Angeles, ss.

On the first day of October personally appeared Joseph Wild, the undersigned, before me, A. W. Potts, County Clerk, who, being sworn, deposed and says:

I have been deaf in my left ear for nearly two years; could not hear a locomotive whistle when close to it I think my deafness was caused by exposure in sleeping out at night while teaming; have frequently heard of Dr. Aborn's great success in the treatment of such cases; I had been endeavoring to make arrangements to visit him at San Francisco for the purpose of placing myself under his treatment; I finally made arrangements to visit our country and the doctor, but unfortunately for me the doctor arrived in Los Angeles about one week ago; I called on the doctor at the Backman house yesterday and submitted myself to his treatment, and to my great joy and surprise he has, within twenty-four hours, restored my hearing, so that I can now hear distinctly conversation across a large room; I can hear an ordinary watch tick quite a distance from the ear; my hearing has been so suddenly restored that the noise of wagons and the bustle on the streets seem to me unpleasant at first, as would naturally be expected after having been totally deaf so long; Dr. Aborn's operations caused no pain or unpleasant feeling whatever; Major Hancock, Andrew Joughin, blacksmith on Aliso street, Mr. Smith, contractor on the L. A. & L. railroad and the overseer of the road, yield proof of more or other persons in Los Angeles know how sadly I was afflicted with deafness; hoping that the publication of the facts concerning my case may be the means of informing others where they can be cured, is my sole object in giving this testimonial; I make my home in Los Angeles, and am engaged in teaming across the river; my business is teaming; I am now grading across the river.

Hopkins made the concluding address, and after the benediction by Dr. Clark the sixty-sixth annual meeting of the Board came to an end. During the session $26,000 were raised to help pay the debt resting on the Board.

Those who have doubts of Doctor Aborn's success as a physician or his reputation as an honorable business man will have their doubts dispelled by calling at his office in the Backman house and reading the hundreds of testimonials in his possession from prominent men in all the large cities of the Union. These letters are the volunteer contributions of editors, officials, lawyers and others, and they speak truths which cannot be gainsayed.

We regret to hear of the death of Mr. Charles A. Pence, who left here last Tuesday on the steamer Ancon, for San Francisco. Mr. Pence was very low with a nervous dyspepsia, and started to San Francisco to have a last interview with relatives who were coming from the East; but this gratification was denied him, as he died after the steamer passed Golden Gate, about 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening. The deceased was twenty-five years old and an estimable young man.

Is there no society for the prevention of cruelty to animals? A stage horse standing on a public street was examined yesterday morning and the neck under the collar was a ridge of raw flesh. A spectator assures us that a pound of raw flesh could have been scraped from the inside of the collar. We call on our authorities to enforce the law and punish this cruelty to animals.

Mrs. Ponet, No. 9 Commercial street, has received a very large assortment of new style millinery goods to suit every taste, from a fifty dollar hat to the very lowest prices. Ladies who desire the latest styles of Fall and Winter hats and bonnets should not fail to call at Mrs. Ponet's, as it is the only place where the finest and best goods can be had at very low prices. New goods by every steamer. Oct 9.

We saw yesterday a fine specimen of the corn raised on Santa Anita ranch. It would have done credit to the best corn lands on the Wabash or Kansas river, and was raised by Mr. D. R. White, a renter on the Santa Anita ranch. It had been irrigated, and the product is estimated at one hundred bushels per acre. We congratulate Mr. Baldwin on the possession of such a ranch and on having such a tenant as Mr. White.

The Anaheim Gazette gives the following evidence of Chinese thrift.

As an instance of the patient industry of the moon-eyed race, and the wonderful progress of their soil, we call attention to the Smith farm, north of Anaheim, rented to Chinese men by Mr. R. W. Scott. They started on the 1st day of June, and on the 15th of July had nearly eight acres under cultivation, and were selling from eight to ten dollars worth of vegetables per day. Since that time they have shipped numerous loads of vegetables to Los Angeles, and have almost the entire tract under cultivation.

The amount already levied will be more than sufficient to defray the school expenses until such time as this special tax can be assessed and collected, and the adoption of this course will prevent any question as to the legality of the present existing assessment and levy on account of such special tax.

Respectfully submitted, E. H. WORKMAN, W. W. ROBINSON, Com. C. E. HUBER.

Los Angeles, Oct. 8th, 1875. On motion Council adjourned.

California Abroad.

We find in the New York Weekly Mail a well written letter dated "Hotel des Princes," Los Angeles, which gives a fair and truthful account of our city and its prospects. While the writer does not go into ecstasies over our prospects and natural advantages, yet he is unusually fair and dispassionate. We make the following extract from the wine, fruit and nut culture.

Los Angeles is the centre of an extensive manufacture of wines and brandy from the vineyards within thirty miles. The town of Anaheim, originally a German colony, produces the largest amount of grapes. It consists of a large ranch cut into small tracts of forty acres, to each of which belongs a lot for town residence. Fences are dispensed with, the cattle being kept in a common enclosure. The water is distributed by a zanja or system of open ditches. A fine orchard in the Anaheim district and the adjoining colony of Orange revealed some of the most successful agriculture in California. The vines looked thrifty and were loaded with fruit. Oranges, lemons, olives, walnuts, almonds, figs and peaches are reared with ease. I noticed large fields of the castor bean, which, I believe, a very profitable crop. Excellent corn is also raised here, equal to that of the Iowa bottom lands. Around Los Angeles are numerous vineyards, the oldest one about twenty years' growth, but the bulk of them have been set out within five years. The profits from orange culture are said to be very great, though this may arise in part from the fact that the supply is not now equal to the demand. It takes from seven to ten years to bring the trees to bearing; and as there have been great numbers planted within five years, it is possible the profits may hereafter be cut down. On the other hand it is argued that the demand for the fruit as far east as Chicago and St. Louis is growing, and there is no danger of over-production if the whole of the available land were devoted to oranges, and their congeners, lemons and limes.

I have heard that as much as $2,500 per acre has been reaped from the orange trees, in a single season; but I have long ago ceased to question (though I may not always believe) the many extraordinary stories told of this country of wonders and contradictions. I can hear, however, that the oranges grown here are as delicious and palatable as the best which reach our shores from the Mediterranean. The varieties most grown are the common sweet and the Saint Michael. Some are being imported continually. One great advantage the horticulturists here have over those of the Gulf and Atlantic coast is that the crop can be picked at convenience, or as wanted for market, the oranges remaining on the trees without rotting, as is the case in moist climates. I saw myself the oranges remaining over from last winter hanging on the trees side by side with the half grown crop of this year, and found them almost as fresh and juicy as if just ripened. I am told they will remain uninjured until the succeeding crop is ripe.

It is my impression that all the fruits raised in this section may also be raised in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys further north, unless states are bananas be the exception. But, on the other hand, I saw wheat, maize, tobacco, alfalfa, apples, pears and peaches, and the ordinary garden vegetables growing in great perfection.

Honey is another production of Southern California. The bees feed on the white sage blossoms, and the annual product is about two hundred pounds of delicious honey per hive. The amount exported by these three counties is estimated to exceed three hundred tons per annum.

Will Remain Until Further Notice.

The two weeks time which Dr. Aborn purposed remaining in Los Angeles has about expired; but owing to the fact that his practice has been so extensive, and evidence that so many still wish to consult him, he hereby announces that he will remain until further notice, so that all who wish may have an opportunity of consulting him.

COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

WEDNESDAY October 8th.

Council met at 7 P. M. pursuant to adjournment, Mr. Robinson President of the Council, in the chair.

Present, Councilman Leamy, Huber, Mulally, Lichtenberger, Teed, Mas-carel, and Robinson.

On motion it was directed that the City Marshal see that the hack rates offered are posted conspicuously in each hack, and, in case of refusal or neglect to do this, to arrest the offender.

The contractor on Main street sewer was ordered to remove the boulders and other obstructions from the street, and to place the building material as near the sidewalk as possible.

The following report from the special committee to confer with the school Board was read and adopted:

To the Common Council of the City of Los Angeles.

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned, your committee appointed to ascertain what action should be taken by you relative to the peremptory writ of mandate issued out of the District Court in and for this county, at the suit of the Board of Education against the Common Council, respectfully report:

That they, in conjunction with the City Attorney, have had a conference with the attorneys representing the Board of Education, and have ascertained that the Board is dissatisfied with the following action upon the part of the Common Council:

They therefore recommend that an ordinance be passed providing for the assessment, levy and collection of a special tax sufficient to raise the amount of the debt between the sum already levied by the Common Council for school purposes and the amount demanded by the Board of Education.

The amount already levied will be more than sufficient to defray the school expenses until such time as this special tax can be assessed and collected, and the adoption of this course will prevent any question as to the legality of the present existing assessment and levy on account of such special tax.

Respectfully submitted, E. H. WORKMAN, W. W. ROBINSON, Com. C. E. HUBER.

TASTELESS MEDICINES.
A PROMINENT NEW YORK PHYSICIAN lately complained to Dundas Dick & Co. about their Sandalwood Oil Capsules, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but that a patient of his had taken them without effect. On being informed that several in- formations were sold, he inquired and found his patient had not taken Dundas Dick & Co.'s.
What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and Dundas Dick & Co. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and patients in the United States combined, and this is the sole reason why the PURE OIL is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.
Dundas Dick & Co. use more Oil of Sandal- wood than all the wholesale and retail druggists and chemists in the United States combined, and this is the sole reason why the PURE OIL is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.
Dundas Dick & Co.'s CAPSULES solve the problem, long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to detract from, if not de- stroy, the good effects of many valuable reme- dies.
TASTELESS MEDICINES—Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and pleasantly in DUNDAS DICK & CO'S CAPSULES. NO TASTE. NO SMELL.
These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.
